

REISS CARNIVAL ATTRACTS AND PLEASES THOUSANDS LAST NIGHT

People of Every Age and Condition in Life Assemble at the "Gladway." Between Sixth and Seventh on Central Avenue Last Night. Take in the Shows. Are Whirled Around in Human Roulette Wheels, Lifted Into Air in Ferris Wheel, and Ride Carousal, Which is a Merry-Go-Round; Those Caught Unaware Have Their Mouths Filled With Delicious Confetti; Free Acts Are Sensational and Thrilling.

When it was announced by the management that Nat Reiss and his allied companies would be here for the half great exhibition was manifested because on two previous visits to Albuquerque, this king of the carnival has demonstrated so well his strength and prowess that when the carnival opened its doors last night over the general performance of a week of entertainment all expectations were far exceed by the variety and novelty of the production. The spirit of fun and good fellowship was on the air and although it was cold, the heat and glee and gaiety had no bounds and to prove that with characteristic Newark Radiant Gas heat in the world, it was evident that the heat was more than not to be shirked and decayed. Carnival was in full swing and much excitement was caused by throwing the manuscript papers about the carnival grounds adding a touch of color and gaiety that was strictly in keeping with the throng of pleasure-seekers. The battle of confetti will continue unabated throughout the week, but upon Saturday night it will be at its height and the birdlike birds will assault the crowds over every road.

The individual shows this year are especially good. The original Nat Reiss company has been enlarged and augmented to the addition of many grand new attractions which notably add to the splendid production. A distinction must be drawn here between the usual shows of this kind, whose only object is to get the people's money. This cannot be said of the Nat Reiss attractions. Every show is honestly worth the price of admission. And when it is consider-in every state of the world.

A newspaper has been noticed on the part of some people about attending the carnival grounds fearing that visitors might miss the pleasure of the affair. That such persons need have no fear of any unpleasantness was demonstrated by the orderly crowds last night. The carnival grounds are clean and decent, and no evidence of disorder was seen. The shows are all clean and decent, and will not give offense to the more sensitive. While every one who goes into the spirit of carnival and fun, there is nothing of a character to keep women and children away. In a word, the Great Fair Way is a way of honest healthful amusement.

Sat. Reiss did not get over to the carnival grounds until almost noon today. He apologized to the Herald for his late arrival, saying:

"Well, well, excuse. What time did you get up?"

"Now, Mr. Reiss, you all know I never did sit through all night till 1 a.m., and I sleep a lot sound,"

But Mr. Reiss laughed and said,

"My watch is fine enough,

and the darkness went away still panting and chuckling to himself.
